Food Allergy Worries?

Sending your child off to school for the first time may be difficult for any parent. Parents having children with food allergies have even more anxiety. Recent studies have shown that 1 in 20 young children under the age of 5 years are allergic to at least one food. Peanuts, milk, and wheat are some of the most common food allergies affecting young children today. Try these lunch ideas for these common allergies:

We are an Allergy Aware School.

- ◆ No Peanuts: Sunbutter is made with sunflower seeds, and it is a safe substitute for kids with peanut or tree nut allergies. Sunbutter can be served alone, paired with a favorite jam or jelly, used with sliced fruit or crackers, or used in a variety of peanut and tree nut free recipes.
- ◆ No Milk: Soymilk is the most common milk substitute. You can use soy milk in your cereals, smoothies, or in place of regular milk in your favorite recipes.
- ◆ No Wheat: Choose from these flours: rice, potato starch, soy, tapioca, or corn instead or wheat, barley, or rye. Some wheat-free snack ideas include rice cakes; cereal (Rice Chex, Corn Chex, Gluten Free Apple Cinnamon Cereal or Rice Krispies); fruit snacks; rice crackers; or snacks from Enjoy Life Foods, like the Soft and Chewy Caramel Apple Snack Gluten-Free Bars.

5-4-3-2-1, GO!

Nutrition and physical activity play an important role in a child's health. Staying healthy can be easy to remember when you think about five numbers (5-4-3-2-1).

Each number represents the following:

- ⇒ 5 servings of fruits and vegetables
- ⇒ 4 servings of water a day
- ⇒ 3 servings of low-fat dairy
- ⇒ 2 hours or less of screen time a day
- ⇒ 1 hour or more of physical activity a day
